Not-For-Resale (NFR) Program Terms & Conditions

Javita's "Not For Resale" (NFR) Program is a unique program that we make available in select markets around the world where we do not have a warehouse or office, where we are not yet registered as a business, and where our products are not yet registered with the government for resale.

In these countries, our NFR Program allows you to experience Javita's life-enhancing nutritional and personal care products for personal consumption only. You may not resell the products to other individuals.

You can be instrumental in sharing Javita within your NFR country. While our products cannot be resold in an NFR country, you can still introduce your friends and family directly to the Javita NFR program so that they can also purchase products for personal use. Plus, you'll be rewarded for doing so with a compensation plan identical to the plan Javita uses in established markets.

To join Javita as a "Preferred NFR Member" in your home country you hereby understand and agree that (i) the products you purchase are for personal use or for members of your immediate family and that the products are not for resale; (ii) You are responsible for all taxes and duties associated with the appropriate customs checkpoint; and (iii) Javita is not responsible for products confiscated by customs officials.

You also further agree that you will not order more than the permissible amount of product authorized by local law for personal importation into the country you are a resident of, per the schedule below ...
